To Whom it May Concern,

Brakebush Brothers guarantees that the item codes listed below have not been formulated with any gluten-containing ingredients, which are those derived from wheat, barley, or rye grains. Although Brakebush is ruled under the USDA, we define "Gluten Free" based off the FDA's final rule last revised in 2013. In order to identify a food as "Gluten Free" it is not to contain an ingredient that:

1. Is a Gluten-containing grain (wheat, barley, rye...)
2. Originates from a gluten-containing grain that has not been processed to remove gluten
3. Originates from a gluten-containing grain that has been processed to remove gluten, but still results in the presence of 20ppm or more of gluten. (Any unavoidable gluten present in food must be less than 20ppm).

Please see the following pages for a list of products that fall under each of these classifications.
