

GOCHUJANG

Gochujang has been a Korean household staple for centuries, with its first use in Korea traced to the late 18th century. Traditionally fermented over years in large earthen pots outdoors, O'Food has already been producing Gochujang for several decades. O'Food's new take on Authentic Gochujang launches the Korean chili sauce for the mainstream customers. Gochujang has many uses and is great for wings, burgers, marinades, dipping sauces, or used to punch up stew or soups.
