How Much Ice Do You Need?

Use the estimates below to see how much ice your establishment might use per day:

Restaurant	1.5 lb. per Meal
Cocktail Bar	3 lb. per Seat
Cafeteria	1 lb. per Person
Water Service	6 oz. per 12 oz. Cup
Salad Bar	35 lb. per Cubic Foot
Beverage Service	5 oz. per 7-10 oz. Cup 8 oz. per 12-16 oz. Cup 12 oz. per 18-24 oz. Cup
Hotel Guest Ice	5 lb. per Hotel Room
Hotel Catering	1 lb. per Customer
Health Care	10 lb. per Patient

For Example:

If a restaurant averages
250 meals sold in a day:
250 Meals x 1.5 lb. = 375 lb.

Therefore, that restaurant is looking for an ice machine that can make 375
lb. or more of ice in one day.

A Guide to Ice Styles

FULL CUBE	HALF CUBE	GOURMET CUBE	NUGGET
7/8" x 7/8" x 7/8"	3/8" x 7/8" x 7/8"	1 1/8" x 1 1/2"	7/16" x 5/16" x 3/8"
Slow melting and high visual appeal. Best for premium cocktails, top shelf spirits, upscale bars, restaurants, and banquet service where presentation matters and dilution control is important.	Highest packing density and fast cooling. Best for fountain drinks, soft drinks, iced coffee, healthcare and lodging ice dispensers, and high volume restaurant beverage service.	Very slow melting, low displacement, and awesome where presentation is important. Best for upscale bars and restaurants, specialty cocktails, and any account where premium presentation drives the program.	Soft, chewable, and absorbs flavor. Best for healthcare facilities, smoothies and blended drinks, frozen cocktails, soda and fountain service, and patient and staff drink stations. Also pairs especially well with soda.
