Notes & Details

This Fryclone standard size crumb scoop is an excellent companion to tube fryers from a variety of popular makes and models! Cleaning the cold zone in the bottom of your fryer is a vital part of its routine maintenance, and with this scoop you can keep up with your fryer's needs quickly and easily. The long stainless steel handle features a rubber-coated grip, which makes it easy to use while still giving you the reach to scoop out the very bottom of the fryer.

The scoop is engineered with 201 stainless steel for optimal durability and corrosion resistance, and it also features an angled bottom for cleaning the deepest, hard-to-clean regions of the fryer. Drain holes in the back let you scoop out food debris while keeping oil in the frypot. Be sure to measure the gap between your fryer's tubes to determine which size crumb scoop is best for your unit.
