Notes & Details

This Halifax half right side curtain is the perfect companion to your type 1 box or type 2 heat removal kitchen hood system! Installing a side curtain improves capture efficiency and also lowering the necessary exhaust rate. It's a great option for applications where space is particularly tight, and each curtain is made from 430 stainless steel to provide superior durability. This half height curtain can also be used to physically separate the hood area above the cooking surface from other kitchen equipment.
