Notes & Details

Protect and store your operation's alcohol supply with this Regency beer box sliding lid. For use with the 60" beer box, this innovative cover keeps your signature drink operations securely stored in between applications. Made of type 304 stainless steel, this lid offers exceptional durability and corrosion-resistance as well as better cold retention. Simply slide the lid open to access drinks for convenient use. A padlock and two keys are included for added security, and the stainless steel construction matches the box.
